“ There are never any "right" words to say at a time like this. So I will say what's in my heart, Gilly and I are glad we had the opportunity to know her. May God keep you all.

“ My heart sank when I heard the news. Sometimes words are not enough to heal the brokenhearted, but I happen to know this is a family of high belief in the Lord and all of HIS greatness. So although we will miss Mrs.. Evans, we will have our fondest memories renewed. We know that her life's purpose has been fulfilled on this earth and a new life has begun in spirit. To me she was always a Lady with class, an educator at all times, and she knew how to keep it real. Mrs. Evans will forever be missed, but not forgotten. God bless the family and friends. May you hear HIS whispers and feel HIS touch, and may it bring you comfort during your darkest hours. She has always been a beautiful creation, and now she is healed. Thank You Father for looking over her life. Now that you have called her home, we are left with keeping her alive in our hearts and minds. God Bless All.

*In Loving Memory,

“ My condolences in the loss of your dear loved one. When our love ones die, the pain of grief may seem unbearable. Our loving God Jehovah is aware of this and comforts us by means of his word the Bible. 1 Peter 5:7 says: While you throw all your anxiety on him, because he cares for you. Also Psalm 34:18: Jehovah is close to the brokenhearted; He saves those who are crushed in spirit.
