“ She was such a beautiful person. I had the pleasure of meeting Ms. Creola during the hardest time in my life and she provided me comfort while going through her own struggle. She told me a few weeks ago while at the hospital that she appreciated every part of her life and considered every day a blessing. She talked about the love she had for her mother and siblings. I can tell from our conversations that she was loved. She was such sweet soul that loved life. She will be missed. Even though her passing brings me sorrow, I feel comfort knowing she's in a better place and her struggle is over.

“ My heart is broken. Creola was my dear dear friend. Can not compare to what you the family is experiencing today. My deepest sympathies to you all. I only met you once but I remember you all. She steered me in the right path when I was trying to be wrong. She always told me the truth no matter what. I love her and I always will. Sorry for your loss and the loss to the world. God please take care of my friend.
