“ As a little girl my family and I had the great pleasure and fortune to have Evone take care of us. She was young, vivacious and a spirit that exuded life. I remember the heartbreak of her leaving us for a better opportunity for her family. It was one of first lessons in my life that when you loved someone, sometimes you had to let them go for their success. Even though our time with her was short, she was in our hearts in every step of our lives. Thank you our dear Evone, you are in the fabric of the lives of all the children you helped bring up. We know she in in a better place now and that her family has all of our prayers. Much love ~ Reid Simons-Fulton
