“ I have known this beautiful woman for over 35 years and my heart is aching after hearing of her transition. She was a person that I could call and get advice from, be it cooking, parenting and/or realationships. She was so kind to me and my boys. I remember in 1986 when my oldest was born and I came to NY i knew I had to stop by her so she could see the baby. She was so attentive and she was like this baby is hungry. A bottle didnt satisfy him. She boiled some potatoes and mashed them up with a lil butter and milk and fed my son and he was just smiling and happy. I lost my mother in 1980 and she (along with other strong women) stepped in as a surrogate mother. She shared her knowledge with babies and how to go about certain things,me being a new first time mother. She was the truth and told it to you straight. I love this woman and only the Father God knows, I am gonna miss her. Rodney if you ever need me, I am a phone call away. If you come to NY you are welcome. You and the Family have my deepest sympathies during this time.
