“ I'm proud to come from a family of dignified, respectful, honest and intelligent God fearing people. I see my Daddy Blue walking in the fields to grab sassafras leaves to cure our colds. I see him lining us up to give us 666, castor oil & Father John medicine when one person sneezed or coughed. I see him pulling the gun out to run the boys away as he cussed them out(lol). I see him coming to the club to check on us and let everyone know whom we belonged (lol). Also, to make sure we stayed out longer than he in order to use us as an alibi and deflector so grand mom would be mad at us... I see, saw and felt love... My Daddy would say "if you tell on you no one else could" translation don't give anybody else something on or over you... I can go on and on with everything that was poured into me from such a loving, giving, honest and wise man. But the best gift he gave me was his unconditional love and truth... Love you endlessly Daddy from my heart to yours until we meet again... Your eldest granddaughter Laini
