“ My girl Kelly! I've been dragging out writing anything because I didn't want to believe it. From little girls in middle school to adults. We have shared many firsts. We went to senior prom, cut our hair together (I grew mine back, you never did 😭), you took me to buy my first car, so many things, some things we did that will always be between us (lol). The true definition of a friend. You were there every step of the way. Three things if anyone knows you knew about you: a daddy's girl, there was never a hair out of place, and you did not mix with everybody. I will miss you so much because as a friend, we didn't have to talk everyday but when we did we picked right back up. I remember the last time we spoke on Aug. 19 everything was fine, I will indeed honor you and not worry as I know you would not want. Now you are with your dad resting. You may not be able to read this but you know I love you girl. The boys and I will miss you.

“ Kelly you have left a void that can never be filled. All the summer adventures and holiday memories. A cousin that became a little sister. I can hear you now always asking a resounding “Why” then that “hum” with a shoulder shrug only we understood. It was a language of our own. To say I’m hurt, confused and lost is an understatement. You are now resting in the Lord until we meet again love you sis..

“ I can't describe the level of loss or how much Kelly will be missed! Kelly often times said the things we all thought but didn't have the courage to say. I'll never forget how you introduced me to wrestling and how you were such a HUGE “ the Rock” AKA Dwayne Johnson fan. I didn't get it at first but after watching it or talking about I began to see what she saw. Seeing true talent unfold and that kinda exemplifies who she was. She saw people at their core and their potential. She didn't have a lot of people around her but the people she chose to have were of high quality as was she. Two things that Kelly didn't play about was keeping her hair fly and catching a sale. She and I would often trip bc we would hawk the same stuff rather than be from QVC, the mall, or figuring out how to share and stack discount's. I knew at the wedding we were going to be sisters/friends for life and I am very thankful that stands true! You spoiled Mina. Mina, had 3 pairs of Diamond earrings from Kelly before she was even three yrs old. Kelly played such a pivotal role and was there at every milestone. From visiting in Cali, to making Soccer Games in Columbia to everything in between. Kelly/You were and are the best Auntie, sister and friend I could've ever asked for, I am eternally grateful! Although I am very sad about your passing it gives me solace to know you are with Mac. I know we will see each other again so please hold me spot and meet at the gate so I can skip the line. LOVE YOU!! -Happy

“ Kelly was- is- the best auntie i could've ever had. It even pains me to write this out because her soul, smile, HAIR, was always radiating. I miss you so much Kelly and I planted the elephant ear I was going to give you in my yard. Just like life, I will water your memories every day, feed you with our familie's love, and when the season comes, you will wilt away. But once spring arrives, you're there again; a continuous cycle of life. Losing you and papa quickly has taught me that the Lord can take what matters the most to us in seconds, but that doesn't mean they're gone...they're simply just watching over us❤️ Kelly will always leave a special place in my heart and I'm glad she's eating banana pudding with her daddy in heaven now.

“ Kelly and I worked together t OSI many years ago. She had a beautiful smile and that hair was always on point. She was smart and a joy to be around. My dear sister take your rest and to Kelly's Family, I asked that God holds your heart in the palm of His hands. I pray that it soothes your pain and heart break.
