“ Larry M. Fields was known as "The Joggle Board Man". He was a builder of the Old Charleston Joggle Board, which was benches that rocks as he was employed Ferguson Fulgham Painting Contractors. He was a great friends and a honest decanted worker. I know the golden gates of Heaven wil welcome my friend. So Family the world appreciated you for letting us share Larry. We are sorry for your loss. May God be with you!!.....Herman Vandross

To the family of Mr. Larry Fields. My father Frank Heyward spoke highly of him when they worked at Ferguson Fulghum together. He was a friend of the family and a great, dedicated worker. We are sorry to hear of his passing but take solace in knowing that he was a great friend to many in his time here on Earth. We pray for you during this season of your lives.

Mr. Frank Heyward & family.
