“ Lonnie was gentle, quiet, and deeply trustworthy. He was my protector when I drove back to North Carolina in my new car in the early 80s. On several occasions he drove me to Durham then took the bus back to South Carolina. During that time, my grandmother, Mamie Powell Green, also entrusted him to escort me to nights on the town in Charleston. I will always remember those fun conversations. I also fondly remember the fierce love and commitment he had for his mother, Minnie Mae Powell. Rest in much deserved peace and power my sweet cousin! Pam Martin, MD, Keller, TX.
